Youth Code of Conduct

- Youth are not to be outside of adult (18 or older) supervision while on church property or at church sponsored events.
- Youth are to use respectful and appropriate language and behaviors while participating in church sponsored events.
- If a youth touches another youth and is asked to stop they should do so immediately. All touch between youths should be consensual and compassionate.
- Youth should not act or behave in manner that disrespects or endangers another person or themselves.
- If a teacher, sponsor, or youth volunteer feels that a youth participant is behaving in a manner that endangers or harms other participants they will remove that participant from the activity as soon as possible.
- Bullying and intimidation is prohibited. Any youth who engages in bullying may be subject to meetings with the Youth Education Director and/or Senior Minister and potential exclusion from church programming.
- Youth are expected to immediately report incidents of bullying to a teacher or the Youth Ministry Director. Youth can rely on church staff to promptly investigate each complaint of bullying in a thorough and confidential manner.
- In the case of a bullying incident, if the complainant youth or the parent of the youth feels that appropriate resolution of the investigation or complaint has not been reached, the youth or the parent of the youth should contact the Youth Ministry Director or the Senior Minister.
- Youth should not chew gum on church property.
- Youth will use church electronics and internet connections only for church related activities.
- Youth are responsible for listening to the instructions given by staff, volunteers, their parents, and their grandparents when on church property or while participating in a church event.

I agree to abide by this code of conduct while at Unity of Austin or Unity of Austin sponsored events.
